Reflection
By Deacon Marty

In today's Gospel from Luke, we listen to Jesus' conversation with the two disciples on the road to Emmaus. This Gospel is about encountering the risen Christ on the highways and byways of life. When we share with each other the events of our lives, and especially when we reflect on the lives of our loved ones who preceded us in death, we are engaging in a form of theological reflection. We walk on the road with Jesus everyday but do we recognize him in the people that we meet and walk with everyday throughout our lives? Pope Paul VI points out that the best way for us to get to know Jesus is through reading and devotion of the Sacred Scriptures. Holy Scripture contains the prophecy that God would bring about salvation through the passion and death of the Messiah. The Cross does not mean failure; it is the route chosen by God for Christ to achieve victory over sin and death (1 Cor. 1:23-24). How often do we walk with Jesus, concerned about our own preoccupations, obsessions, blindness, or anything else that keeps us from loving him? Do we open our eyes and see Jesus as he really is, a kind loving gentle person who loves us and gave his life for us, or do we see a stranger in our midst just like the two disciples? As the disciples were walking with Jesus and telling him about all that has happened, they did not recognize him as he seemed to be different and they did not even realize who they were speaking to until he sat with them and broke bread and blessed it. When we come to Mass and partake of the Holy Eucharist do we recognize who Jesus is and that he died for each of us so that we might reach salvation. Luke tells us, that each time we gather as a community to celebrate the great deed God has done for us in Jesus with joy and gratitude, Jesus is as present to us today as he was to the Emmaus travelers in Luke's Gospel.

*Eventos y Anuncios ParroquialIII Domingo de Pascua*LECTURAS:

1ª lectura: Hch 2, 14. 22-33/2ª lectura: 1 Ped 1, 17-21 Evangelio: Lc 24, 13-35

ReflexiónAquel mismo día, el domingo

Hoy comenzamos la proclamación del Evangelio con la expresión: «Aquel mismo día, el domingo» (Lc 24,13). Sí, todavía domingo. Pascua —se ha dicho— es como un gran domingo de cincuenta días. ¡Oh, si supiésemos la importancia que tiene este día en la vida de los cristianos! «Hay motivos para decir, como sugiere la homilía de un autor del siglo IV (el Pseudo Eusebio de Alejandría), que el ‘día del Señor’ es el ‘señor de los días’ (...). Ésta es, efectivamente, para los cristianos la “fiesta primordial”» (San Juan Pablo II). El domingo, para nosotros, es como el seno materno, cuna, celebración, hogar y también aliento misionero. ¡Oh, si entreviéramos la luz y la poesía que lleva! Entonces afirmaríamos como aquellos mártires de los primeros siglos: «No podemos vivir sin el domingo».

Pero, cuando el día del Señor pierde relieve en nuestra existencia, también se eclipsa el “Señor del día”, y nos volvemos tan pragmáticos y “serios” que sólo damos crédito a nuestros proyectos y previsiones, planes y estrategias; entonces, incluso la misma libertad con la que Dios actúa, nos es motivo de escándalo y de alejamiento. Ignorando el estupor nos cerramos a la manifestación más luminosa de la gloria de Dios, y todo se convierte en un atardecer de decepción, preludio de una noche interminable, donde la vida parece condenada a un perenne insomnio.

Sin embargo, el Evangelio proclamado en medio de las asambleas dominicales es siempre anuncio angélico de una claridad dirigida a entendimientos y corazones tardos para creer (cf. Lc 24,25), y por esto es suave, no explosivo, ya que —de otro modo— más que iluminar nos cegaría. Es la Vida del Resucitado que el Espíritu nos comunica con la Palabra y el Pan partido, respetando nuestro caminar hecho de pasos cortos y no siempre bien dirigidos.

Cada domingo recordemos que Jesús «entró a quedarse con ellos» (Lc 24,29), con nosotros. ¿Lo has reconocido hoy, cristiano?
